

Green shoots clean in Ostersun, Sweden

OSTERSUN, Sweden, December 2, 2011 - Brendan Green is starting off his World Cup season in fine form. In his 10 km Sprint held in Ostersun, Sweden today, Green shot a clean course, hitting all ten targets. His 14th place finish equals his best ever on the Biathlon World Cup circuit. Green was facing the very best front line biathletes in this race and perhaps in the history of this sport. Green has shown today that he ranks up with the best biathletes in the world.

Green has qualified for Sunday's pursuit race, watch it live on biathlonworld.com. He starts just over a minute back of the leader with a great chance to gain valuable world cup points. He presently sits in 28th place on the world cup points ranking, 14th in the Sprint event standings and is off to an amazing start to this world cup season.

Congratulations to the Green family and thank you's to all the coaches, sponsors and supporters who have in the past and continue to back Brendan's impressive pursuit of excellence.
