- Answer each question fully and provide all signatures where required.
- Applications must be received by May 31, 2018. Incomplete or late applications will not be considered.
- Review the submission checklist to ensure the correct documents have been submitted.

Understanding Sport for Life (S4L)

There has been a nationwide shift in the education and delivery of sport, known as Sport for Life (S4L). This movement has generated a new way to train and develop our youth. As a result, the Rising Star program will focus its funding on the Train to Train category of the Long-Term Athlete Development (LTAD). Additional information on S4L can be found at <http://www.canadiansportforlife.ca/>

Train to Train <http://www.canadiansportforlife.ca/ltad-stages/train-train>

Applications under this category must meet the following guidelines:

- Females must be between the ages of 11-15 years at the time of the camp. Consideration will be given to athletes of a younger age that participate in a sport which is recognized as an early specialization sport.
- Males must be between the ages of 12-16 years at the time of the camp. Consideration will be given to athletes of a younger age that participate in a sport which is recognized as an early specialization sport.
- The sport specific camp should focus on sport specific skill development/training more so than competitions, and tournaments.
- It should be evident within the camp/schedule that there is sport specific technical, tactical and fitness training approximately 9-12 times per week.
